

OKOYE MICAHA

UI/UX DESIGNER & FRONTEND DEVELOPER

PERSONAL SUMMARY

I'm a Creative Designer & Frontend Developer

I specialize in crafting visually compelling and user-centric digital experiences that align with brand identity and user needs. My expertise lies in blending aesthetic elements with data-driven insights to produce designs that are not only beautiful but also highly functional. I have a strong passion for working with color theory, typography, and layout design, leveraging my technical skills to bring innovative concepts to life. In addition to my professional work, I am committed to continuous learning and personal development. I frequently engage with the latest industry trends through educational videos and explore diverse creative influences through music. This balance of creativity and knowledge fuels my ability to stay ahead in a fast-evolving digital landscape.
